Village School Administration in Chekiang

25X1

1. As of June 1952 the village school system consisted of the following:

- a. A middle school for each two villages.
- b. A primary school which covered a five-year course for each village.
- c. A night school for persons over 16 years old for each village.

Teachers were appointed by the district governments. During the summer and winter vacations teachers were given political indoctrination courses. Students were required to participate in the children's squad and yanako dancing, and to attend public trials and political rallies. Funds for needy village schools were obtained by forcing well-to-do businessmen to make contributions.<sup>1</sup>Women's Military Cultural Working Team in Haimen (121-25, 28-43)
